Document lifts lid on pedophile tests

OUR KIDS 'TARGETS'

BUREAUCRATS have labelled children "targets" in an explosive document, which shows how Victorian children are being deliberately exposed to pedophiles.

The document, a checklist, is designed to record the responses of intellectually disabled sex offenders as they are taken on escorted outings in Melbourne's inner northern suburban shopping centres and supermarkets. The Supervised Leave of Absence

Behaviour Checklist, obtained by the Sunday Herald Sun, lists questions to support workers in which children are referred to as "targets" including "WERE target group present?"

"DID client respond to target group and how?", and

"DID client self-manage in response to target group presence?"

It also tells support workers accompanying the pedophiles to use minimal force on the "clients" if they need to restrain them.
